

Journal Club 2007-2008: Faculty Contact

To obtain feedback from EPS faculty, graduate students are expected to discuss their journal club presentation with three EPS faculty members (one of which can be the student's advisor).

Appropriate topics for discussion include the research results and methods that were presented in the seminar, the style and format of the presentation, and the broader future research directions of the student. These discussions should be oriented toward improving the presentation skills of the student, the quality of the student's research, and the impact of the student's work.

Students should list below the faculty members with whom they have discussed their Journal Club presentation, and briefly outline the results of these discussions (summarized by a few key points). The faculty member should sign and date after this discussion. The student is responsible for returning a copy of this sheet to the Journal Club coordinator (Clint Conrad) within two weeks of the student's Journal Club presentation.
